

A FRIEND. A BROTHER. A SAINT. A BLOG.
Canadian Catholic organizations join forces to launch a unique blog for the canonization of Br. André

Montreal, October 15, 2010 – On the eve of the canonization of Brother André in Rome Oct. 17, Saint Joseph's Oratory, Salt and Light Catholic Media Foundation and the archdioceses of Montreal and Quebec have joined forces to launch a blog entirely dedicated to the first Canadian-born male saint.

The bilingual blog, located at www.saltandlighttv.org/blog/brotherandre, will include reports and reactions from Rome, Montreal and Quebec City, as well as photos and video.

Several journalists will contribute to the blog.

From Rome:

Alicia Ambrosio, Salt + Light Television
Nathalie Dumas, editor of Oratory magazine
Père Thomas Rosica, CEO of Salt + Light Television
Rita Sawaya, Salt + Light Television

From Montreal:

Sabrina Di Matteo, editor of HiFi magazine
François Gloutnay, editor of the ACPC blog
Laura Ieraci, web editor for the Archdiocese of Montreal

From the Toronto studio of Salt + Light Television:

Matthieu Harrison, producer and blog editor
Sébastien Lacroix, producer and blog administrator

The blog will also include various resources from the Archdiocese of Quebec and ECDQ.tv.

The blog will be updated regularly, from Oct. 16 to Oct. 30, when about 50,000 people will gather at the Olympic Stadium in Montreal to celebrate the new saint in his homeland. The blog will be hosted permanently on the website of the Salt and Light Catholic Media Foundation.

The blog can be found at:

www.saltandlighttv.org/blog/brotherandre (in English)
www.seletlumieretv.org/blogue/frereandre (in French)

- 30 -

Information:

Sébastien Lacroix, Salt + Light Television
1-888-302-7181, ext. 236, slacroix@seletlumieretv.org

Luce Dion, St. Joseph's Oratory
514-266-8835, ldion@osj.qc.ca

Lucie Martineau, Diocese of Montreal 514-925-4304, lmartineau@diocesemontreal.org